In thermodynamics, Work (W) is a path function because it matters the steps involved, while the initial and final positions are of no particular significance. Work is calculated as the area under the curve of a P-V diagram

Pressure (P)

Path A

(V_2, P_2)

W_A

(V_1, P_1)

Path B

W_B

Volume (V)